GREETINGS

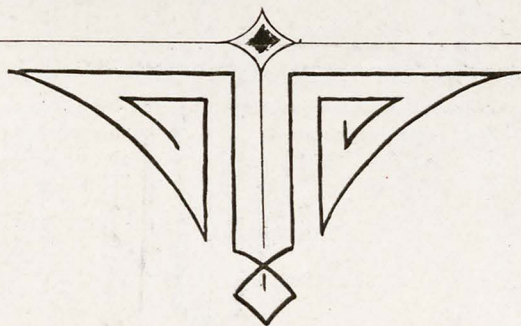

E greet you with an exultant feeling. The war is won — forget it. Exert your energies now, toward a greater University and a greater State.

FOREWORD

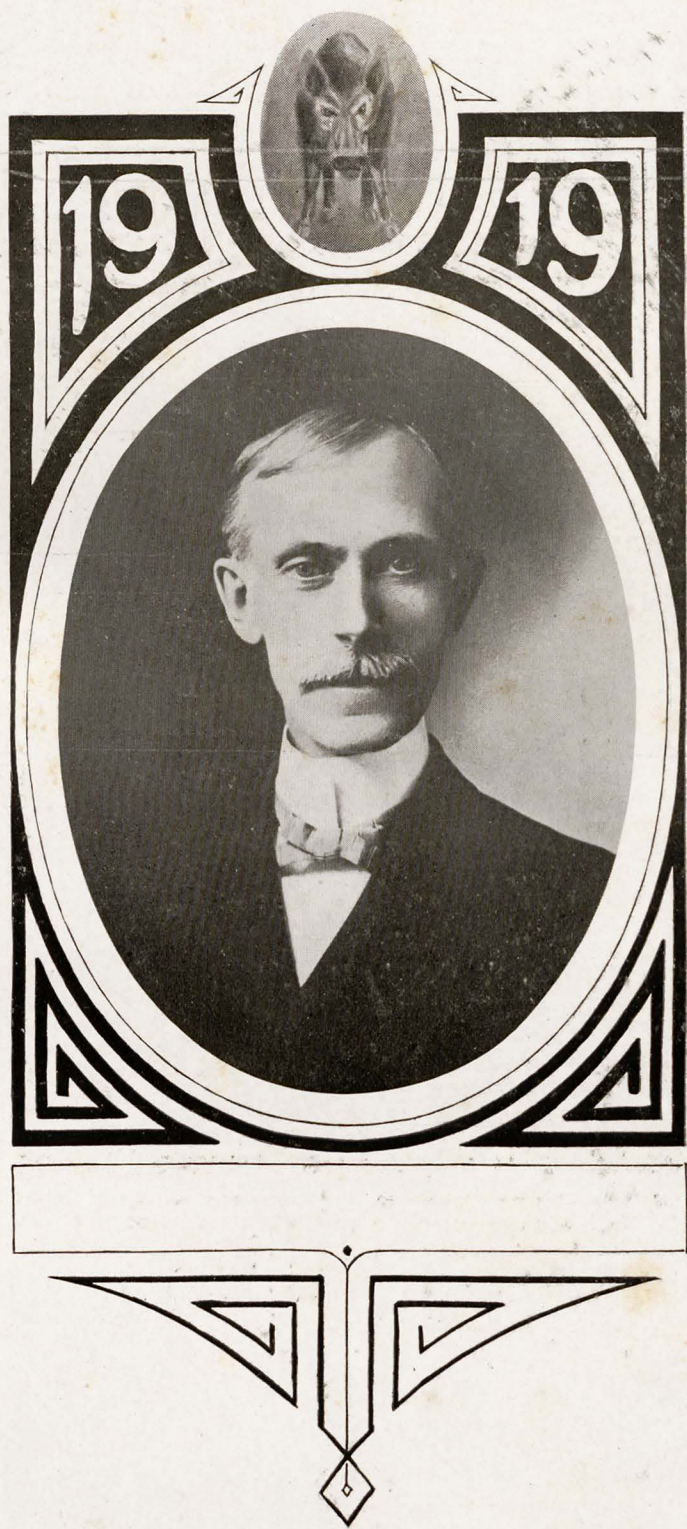

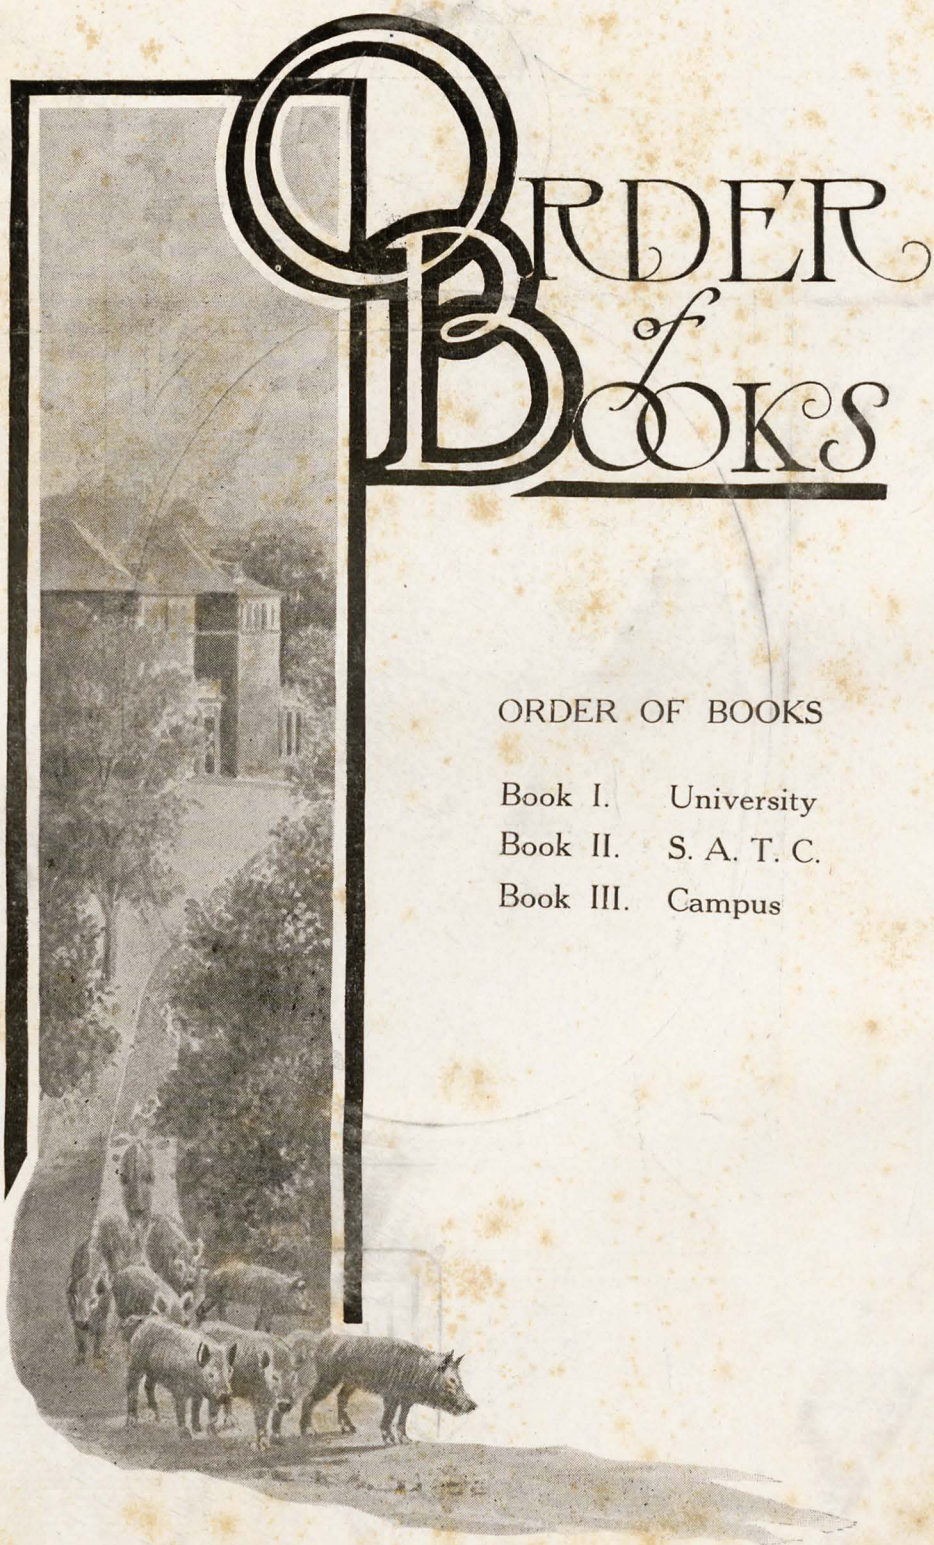

O make the Razorback artistic, to make it different, to make it original, has been our slogan this year. How well we have succeeded we leave to your judgment.

DEDICATION

To Professor B. J. Dunn, whose life has been spent in the service of the University, the 1919 Razor-back is dedicated.

ORDER OF BOOKS

THE RAZORBACK

*"When the lids of dusk are falling
O'er the dreamy eyes of day,
And the whipporwills are calling
And the lessons laid away—
May mem'ry soft and tender
As the prelude of the night
Bend over you and render
As tranquil a delight."*

"For your tomorrow, they gave their today."

So to the memory of those members of these classes who paid the supreme sacrifice we dedicate these few pages.

HEROES

I see them hasting toward the light
Where war's dim watchfires glow;
The stars that burn in Europe's night
Conduct them to the foe.

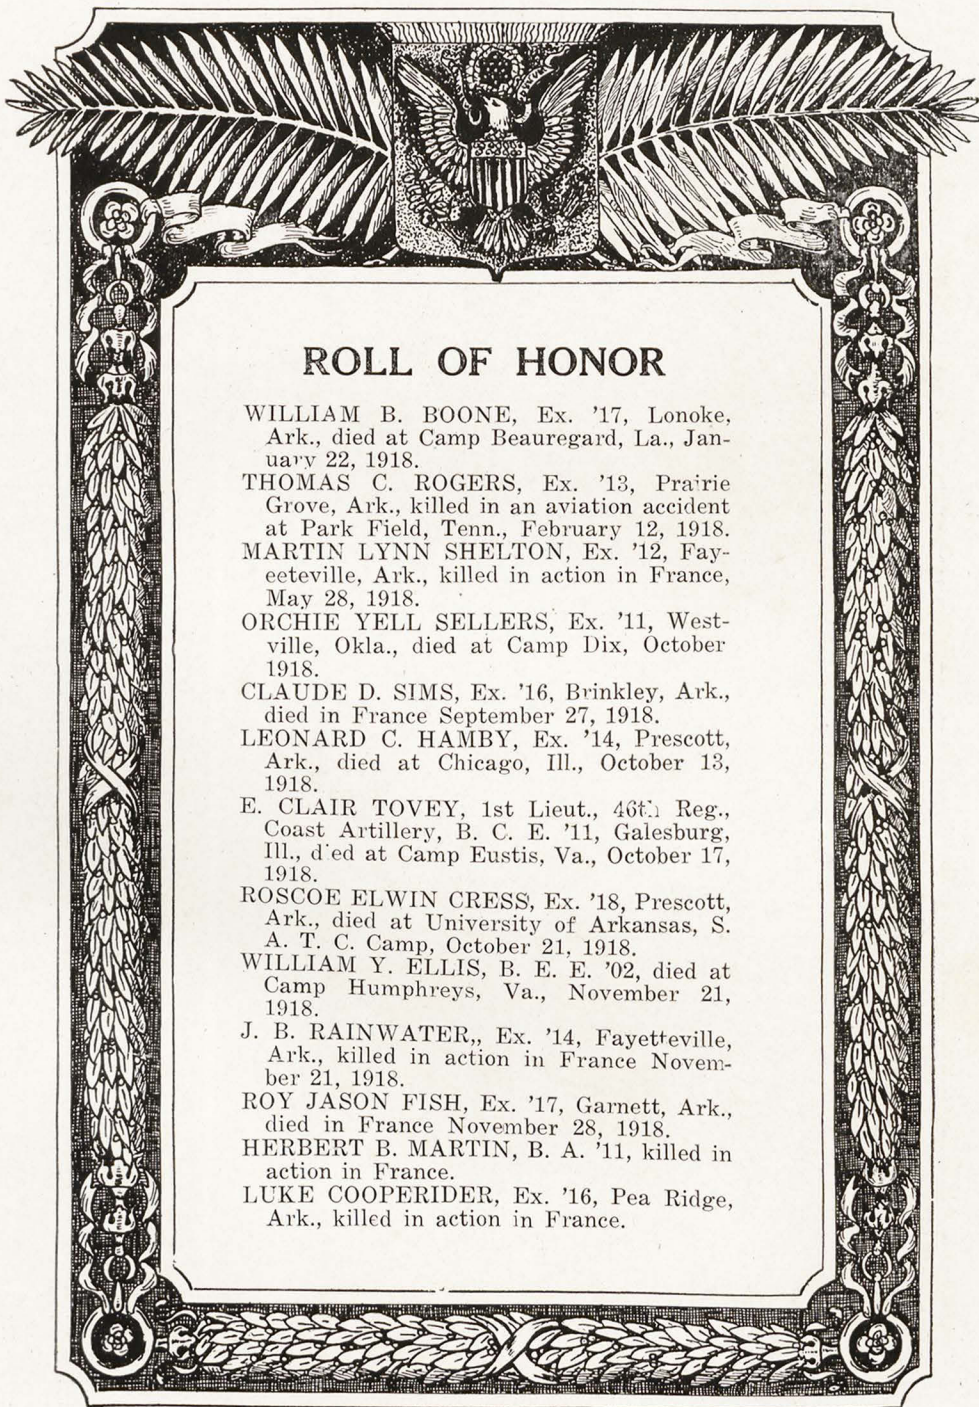

As when a flower feels the sun
And opens to the sky,
Knowing their dream is just begun,
They hasten forth to die.

Be it the mystery of love—
Be it the might of truth—
Some wisdom that we know not of Controls the heart of youth.

All that philosophy might guess,
These children of the light
In one bright act of death confess,
Then vanish from our sight.

Like meteors on a midnight sky
They break—so clear, so brief—
Their glory lingers on the eye
And leaves no room for grief.

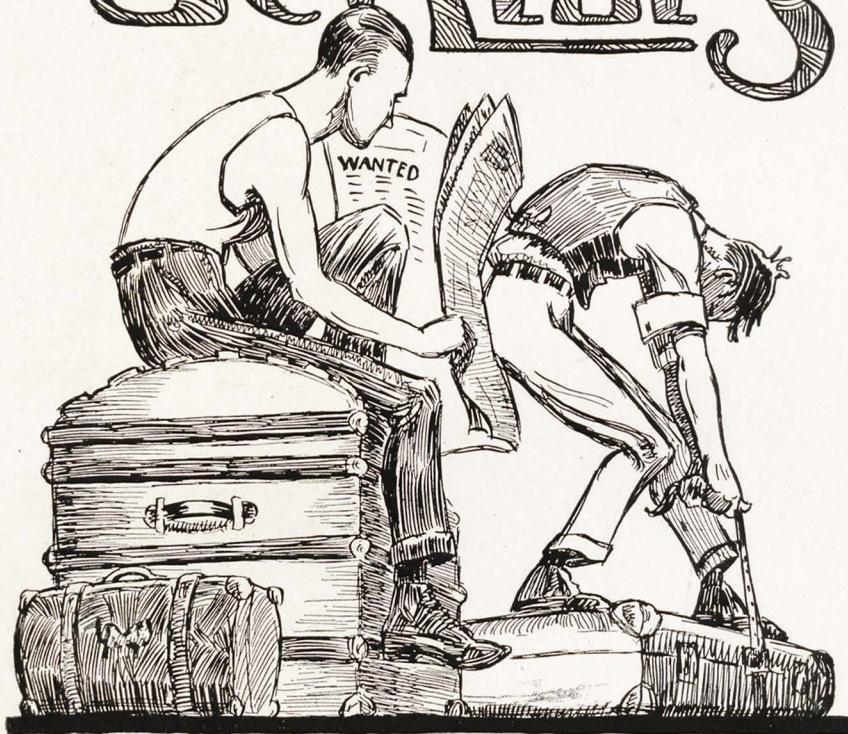

And when to joy old sorrows turn,
To spring war's winter long,
Their blood in every heart will burn,
Their life in every song.
—John Jay Chapman in Songs and Poems.

1919

HISTORY OF CLASS OF 1919

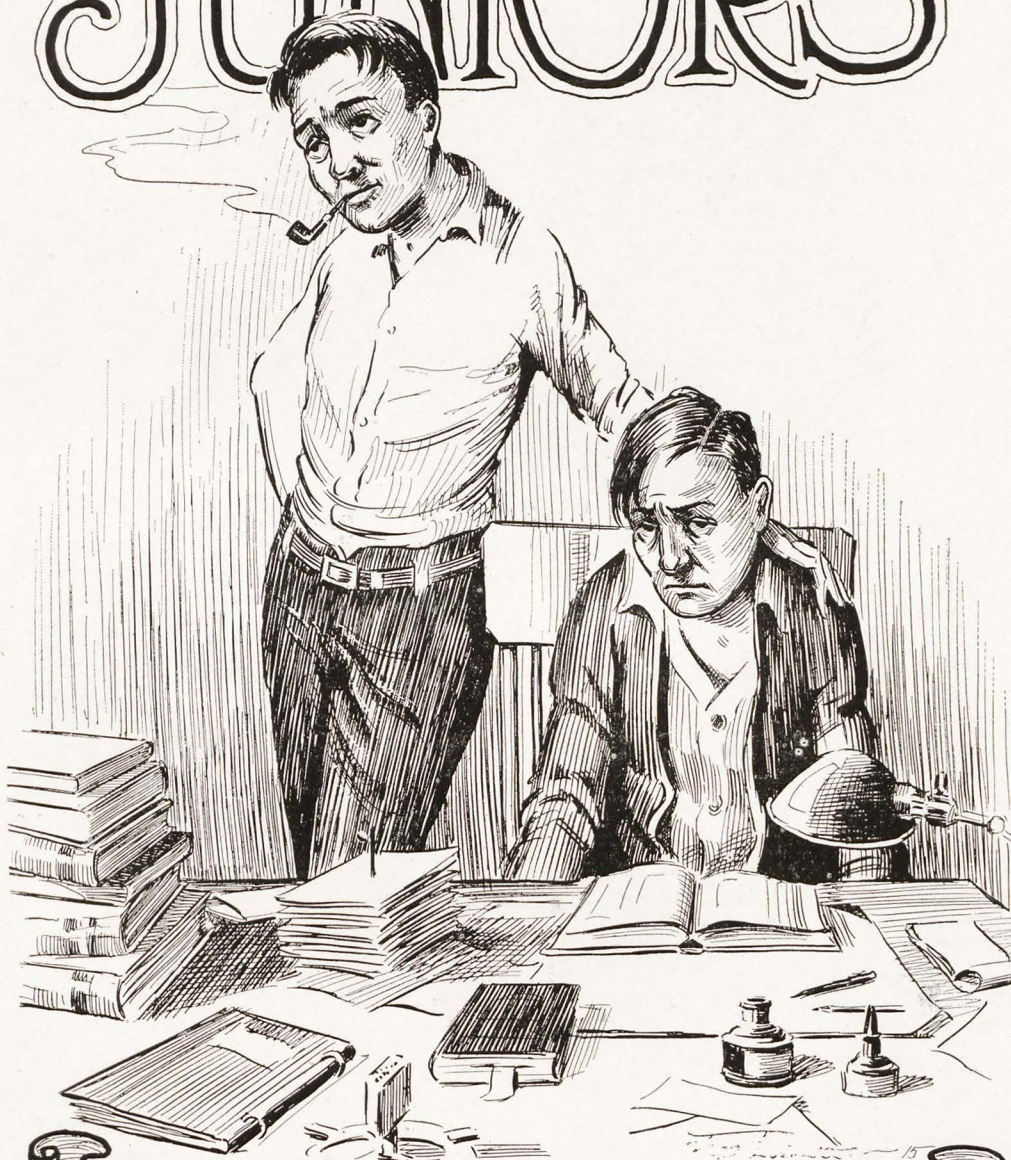

The year 1915, to many of us, was the beginning of an inglorious period. Great were the changes that a few months had wrought. In the springtime we had issued forth from urban seminaries confident that wisdom was plainly marked on every feature; in September we, self-admitted prodigies from our own home towns, congregated at the state's greatest institution of learning, conscious of a bounden duty to display our superior talents. Upper classmen vied with each other in the warmth and interest of their reception. We were assured that green caps were the latest style for boys and that girls should wear green ribbons. Bath house and drill tickets were sold to us at reduced rates by the upper classmen as a mark of their appreciation.

The first two years might well be called a period of transition. The class made no striking record except on the gridiron where it started a series of successes that have not been marred by a single defeat during the whole four years.

The period from 1917 to 1919 is here designated as an era of unrest. During this time the country was drawn into the great war, and, casting books aside, many boys marched to join the colors while lovely maidens forgot the dance hall and devoted untiring energy to the works of war. Truly, this was an age of patriots, and among them our class was well represented. The crisis has passed and many have returned. With a determination little short of pathetic, you may see old familiar faces trying to reflect that same brightness that was so noticeable in former days, but, alas, the stamp of those months in the S. A. T. C. remains indelibly fixed upon them.

As we near the close of the school year we can not in truth call this the same class that entered four years ago, because external wars and internal revolution have both been instrumental in affecting the personnel. If we should attempt to characterize the class by any one word, it would be "variety," for the types of individuals are as varied as the number of members themselves. Anarchists, autocrats, orators, musicians—all look into the future with impatient longing. The narration of their achievements we leave for future state and national historians to relate.

JUNIORS

Cheer up, 'Roomie,'—only one more year!

THE RAZORBACK

BARRETT, JOE

Has the keenest picture (frame) in Hill Hall.

BARRETT, LOIS

If talking pleases teacher, Lois has made a decided hit.

BASKIN, CLARA

Ask Clara about the most exciting part of the S. A. T. C.

BENNETT, LUCY

One of the crooks of the freshmen election.

BRAZIL, ERNEST

Ernest is destined to become a football star.

BROWN, FRIEDA

It's the little things in life that count.

CARROLL, MAYME

If silence were music, Mayme would be a whole brass band.

CHOTARD, ELIZABETH

Never do for yourself what you can get others to do for you.

CLARK, R. H.

(Salty Sea Devil.) Hasn't he a wonderful physique?

COOPER, R. A.

"Believe me, that guy Cooper was hard on us freshmen!"

THE RAZORBACK

COKER, EDITH

She is too quiet to say much about.

COWAN, BOHART

A regular old school "Gray Hall Saint."
"Give it to him, boys, we got ours."

COX, J. E.

The fourth-floor "He Vamp." A Geology shark, and—gee, them eyes!

COX, PEARL

No kin to Jesse. Her ambition tends toward writing feature stories.

CROCKETT, ELIZABETH

All other things in vain we've tried,
So give her a boy and she's satisfied.

DUDLEY, B.

An engineer whose majors are A's and whose minors are B's.

EVANS, HUGH

"Say, fellers, I'm an honest to Gawd second lieutenant. Look at me."

FORRESTER, CHARLYE

"Oh, say kid, Sode's here!"

GATEWOOD, E. M.

He was on the refreshment committee for the Junior dance. He went to Monette, but was robbed on the way back.

GOLD, PAUL

"Say, Verda, who is that good-looking kid who stays at the girls' dorm so much?"

THE RAZORBACK

GREGG, CAROLYN

She's an all round girl and a student.

HARRISON, CLYRENE

"Far be it from me to be sarcastic."

HANNAH, PAUL

"If I ever get out of this navy, I'll never join another."

HARDING, H. H.

The registrar's little brother. Hun used to visit Hill Hall quite frequently. I wonder why?

HART, GERTRUDE

The library's only heart.

HAYS, RALPH

The boy who carries our stick reports to the office.

HOLLABAUGH, EARNEST

"I'm little, but I'm loud, lookout for me."

HARROD, L. W.

"I can't see why everyone doesn't like sociology."

HASELL, GUTHRIE

Has a B. M. degree, but that doesn't mean he's a bad man.

HEAGNER, JOHN

Left school for something more to his liking.

THE RAZORBACK

HOOD, EDNA

How does it seem to be campused, Edna?
Does it interfere with your dates?

IMON, NEIL

He has went from here never to return.
He don't know what he's missing.

IRBY, ANNE

Experienced Home Ec. Takes on weight readily.

IRBY, PET

Not loud especially, but extremely fond of "Red."

KNIGHT, WILLIAM

He deserves a place in our hall of fame?
He is not with us now.

KNOCH, LESTER

"A Little Brother" that lots of people like to have around.

LAWSON, E. H.

"Who is that good-looking boy in the corner eating with a spoon?" Hugh loves a new one every week. Next!

LEIPER, HUGH

The Wear-ever guy. Guaranteed to wear one week-end. Try him, girls.

LOCKE, ARCHIBALD

Looks well in leather leggins. "Archie will never be bald."

MADDOX, LILA MAE

We don't know why she left. There may be several reasons.

THE RAZORBACK

MARKWELL, K. W.

Gone but not forgotten. May return to us next year.

MASSENGALE, LURA

If being happy were a crime, she would get a life sentence.

MATTHEWS, VERDA PARK

Charming grace, a ready smile—that is enough.

McDONNELL, SUSIE

Slow but sure.

McKENNON, JOE

To be found in the joke department. One of Dr. Pickel's sharks.

MILLER, FANITA

She would hurry but is afraid she couldn't stop.

MULRENNIN, CASS

"Oh, for a ride in that good-looking car with that good-looking boy!"

NEWMAN, STANLEY

"I wish I could dance my life away."

MEINMIER, GEORGE

Does he dance, does he prance, does he do a lot of things you can't resist? Well, does he?

OLIVER, W. I.

A presistent consistent student.

MOFFITT, JAMES

Superintendent of Rose Hill Mission. Intends to continue the work.

O'KELLEY, J. F.

Dignity well becomes a second lieutenant, "but time is no item." Boys starved while he was announcing Agri Club meeting.

PARKER, DONALD

A sergeant in Co. E during S. A. T. C. Well liked by his men. (?)

POLK, JOE T.

He's been taking early morning constitutionals especially for an eight o'clock class.

PTAK, JAMES

That tall, high, pretty good-looking, rather slim boy. A good dancer.

SANDERSON, SIBYL

Sibyl stars in gym.

SELLARS, MARY DALE

Her eyes betray her. She thinks too much.

SIMPSON, AUGUSTA

She intends to put the Hamburger in Hamburg.

SHINN, DARELL

"Let's see. I was with Blythe last night. Yes, I'd better call Bess to-night."

SLAUGHTER, BERNICE

"Well, gee whiz, kid, I'm an onion. That's me all over, Mabel."

THE RAZORBACK

STEINBERG, HARRY

A bundle of fun from Clay county.

SMITH, L. P.

O-oO-oo-oo Pig! RAZORBACK!

TOWLER, H. S.

Speight has some friends in Fayetteville of whom no one knows.

TURNER, B. B.

An unfortunate—or should we say fortunate—friend.

VINSON, CLYDE

He is back again after a short vacation.

WALKER, BYRNES

Left the University by coersive reasoning.

WALLACE, ALBERT

Main stay of University band. Ben's right hand man.

WILSON, LOUISE

She wasn't born to be lonesome.

WINKLEMAN, BEN

"Yaka Hula Hicka Doola, Yaka Hula Hicka Doo."

WILLIAMS, FORREST

Ask Forrest about the Biology trip. Have you heard him play the cornet?

THE RAZORBACK

LEE, BILL

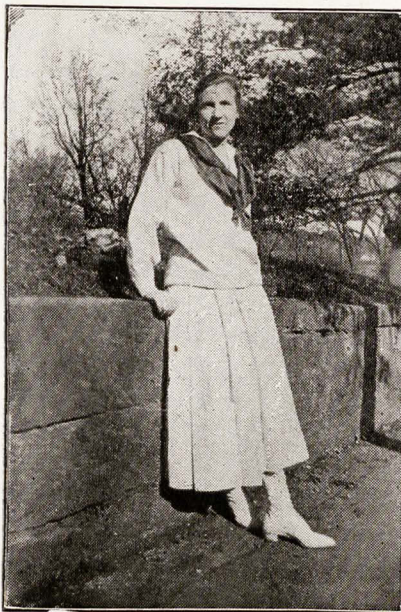

Dear little Billy don't you cry,
You'll be an Agri prof by and by.

NEWMAN, GRACE

Woe be unto man if she ever goes suffragette. Writes whole volumes to John.
"I don't agree with you."

WOODWARD, F. S.

"Let's go to the show to-night. They're having——"

I am a man of leisure. To me books are more than folly.

YOUNG, HENDERSON
Majors in Analytics.

THE fact that certain western colleges are promoting a movement to divide the college course into two parts is evidence of their belief that the sophomore year is the student's most important one. It is contended that in one's second year his resourcefulness, his leadership, and his ability become evident. Yet statistics show a decline in the scholarship of second year students.

With these points in view, it is the idea of the promoters to place the sophomore in a plane with the senior, to graduate him from the junior college, and, in his third year, to enroll him in the senior college.

The sophomore class is important, and when thinking of this, very important. Therefore view it with an eagle eye.

COMMENCEMENT

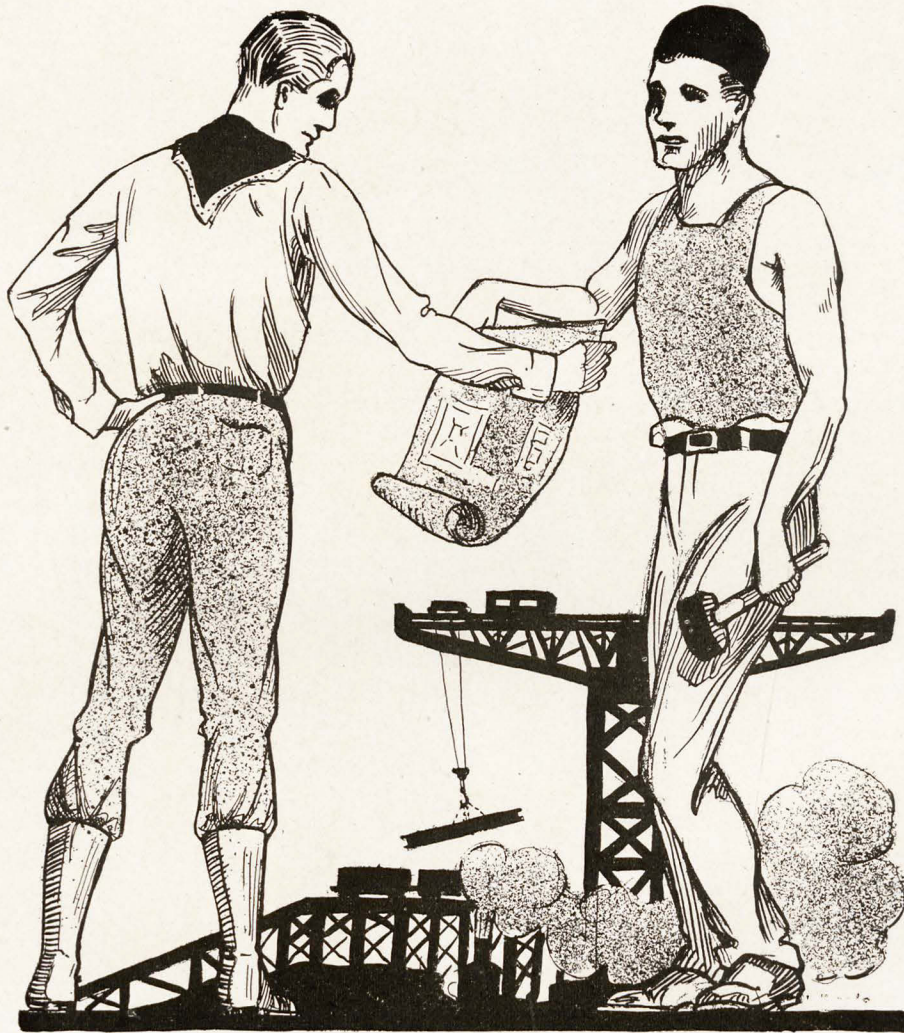

EVERY great undertaking in life must have a beginning. This beginning is its commencement. The commencement of the Freshmen class then is its beginning. It is the time when a few hundred baby boys and girls take up the transformation period into manhood and womanhood.

The commencement of the Freshman is little different from that of the Senior, because they are both entering a new life of which they know nothing. It is true that we are departing from a long established custom to bestow upon a class upon its entrance into college, the term, Commencement. However, circumstances seem to justify this classification. We are no longer adverse to breaking ancient customs and it behooves us, as the men and women of tomorrow, to give to the future world all that we have which bids fair to enrich posterity.

The class of 1922 is doing its part in this reformation. It entered upon its existence at a time when the history of the world was shrouded in darkness. Yet it bravely took up the fight, and to it, more than we realize, is due the credit of victory. It is with pride that the other classes look; it is with satisfaction that the Faculty looks; it is with honor that Arkansas looks—toward the Class of 1922.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

THE course in mechanical engineering is designed to give a student a broad foundation in the subjects that are of greatest importance in his work, a technical education in his chosen field, made practical by shop and laboratory courses, and, in electives, a certain amount of specialization and cultural development. The courses offered include pattern making, foundry, forge, and machine shop practice, automobile repair, heat engines, power plant theory and practice, machine design, testing of materials, and others that are essential to expert engineers.

Both Prof. F. G. Baender, head of the Department of Heat Power Engineering, and Prof. B. N. Wilson, head of the Department of Experimental Engineering, have a Master's Degree from Cornell University. They have both had a large amount of practical experience as well as experience in teaching.

Mr. J. H. Clouse, who is from the University of Ohio, is the instructor in machine shop, Mr. J. Dinwiddie is the instructor in carpentry and pattern making, and Mr. J. Danner has charge of the forge and foundry.

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

FOR several years the Electrical Engineering Department has been the largest of the Engineering Departments. Its men, both in long and short courses, have been of uniformly high quality. Its graduates have always been able to secure positions as soon as they finish school. The usual practice is to do one or two years of apprentice work with one of the great electrical manufacturing or operating companies in order to gain practical experience. The curriculum of the department embraces various courses from elementary Physics to advanced theory of alternating currents, transmission lines, laboratory practice, and like things, with elective courses in English, Modern Languages and Economics. As much practical work as possible is done. Inspection trips to the great companies in the northern states are made whenever possible. Water power surveys are made annually. Many of the students work during the summer in electrical or allied industries.

THE head of the department is Professor J. J. Knoch, Professor V. P. Knott is associate professor and Mr. Victor is instructor.

The Department offers a four-year course in civil engineering leading to the degree of Bachelor of Civil Engineering. The graduate degree of Civil Engineering is granted to the students who have completed at least one year of graduate work. The professional degree of Civil Engineering is conferred upon graduates of the University of Arkansas who have successfully practiced their profession at least one year.

The courses in Civil Engineering are designed to give the student theoretical instruction and as much actual practice as possible. The courses offered can be divided into classes of Applied Mechanics, Surveying, Sanitary Engineering, Bridge Engineering, Railroad Engineering, and Hydraulic Engineering.

ARKANSAS UNIVERSITY BRANCH OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELEC- TRICAL ENGINEERS

THE American Institute of Electrical Engineers is the national organization representing the electrical engineering profession. The University of Arkansas Branch was organized in the year 1904. This society holds its meetings twice a month at the Engineering Hall. These meetings afford opportunity for independent activity and initiative on the part of the student and for the cultivation of many of those qualities needed by the engineer which are not afforded by the class room and the laboratory, such as practice in public speaking, and the preparation, presentation, and discussion of engineering topics.

Papers and extracts from the A. I. E. E. proceedings and electrical journals are read and discussed by the students. In this way the student is encouraged to read technical literature, is informed concerning the modern uses and application of electricity and is caused to realize more fully the importance of his preparatory work.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

THE raison d'etre of the College of Arts and Sciences is to help answer some of the questions ever present in the mind of man and satisfy some of the cravings of the human heart.

Man shall not live by bread alone, yet he certainly cannot live without it. The College helps him to solve this problem, yet the desire to accumulate an undue amount of this world's goods is alien to its spirit. Rather it would have men enjoy the good things of this life and share them with others. Especially does it point to the road of service.

To enjoy, one must know. The College of Arts and Sciences holds the keys to past storehouses of knowledge. It serves the seeker after truth and human fellowship. Let him ask for the history of the mountains and the seas and Geology furnishes the record; the laws of molecules and stars and Physics lays them down; the rules of change, and Chemistry recites them; the processes of growth, and Biology makes them plain; the secret of exactness, and Mathematics offers the key; the mysteries of the heavens and Astronomy draws the veil.

Would the seeker know more of his own kind, the College is at his side. Ancient Languages opens the door for communion with the men of old, Modern Languages with the men of all the earth, History records the deeds of men of all times, Political Science explains their government, Economics reveals the road to well-being, and Philosophy opens for him the inner recesses of the human mind.

If the seeker asks for long life, Physical Education points out the way and Military Art furnishes the necessary defense. If he would clothe his thoughts in words, English Language teaches them and their use; or if he would talk with Chaucer and Shakespere, English Literature leads him to them. If he would revel in sound or color or form, Fine Arts is his conductor. Serve he must, says Sociology.

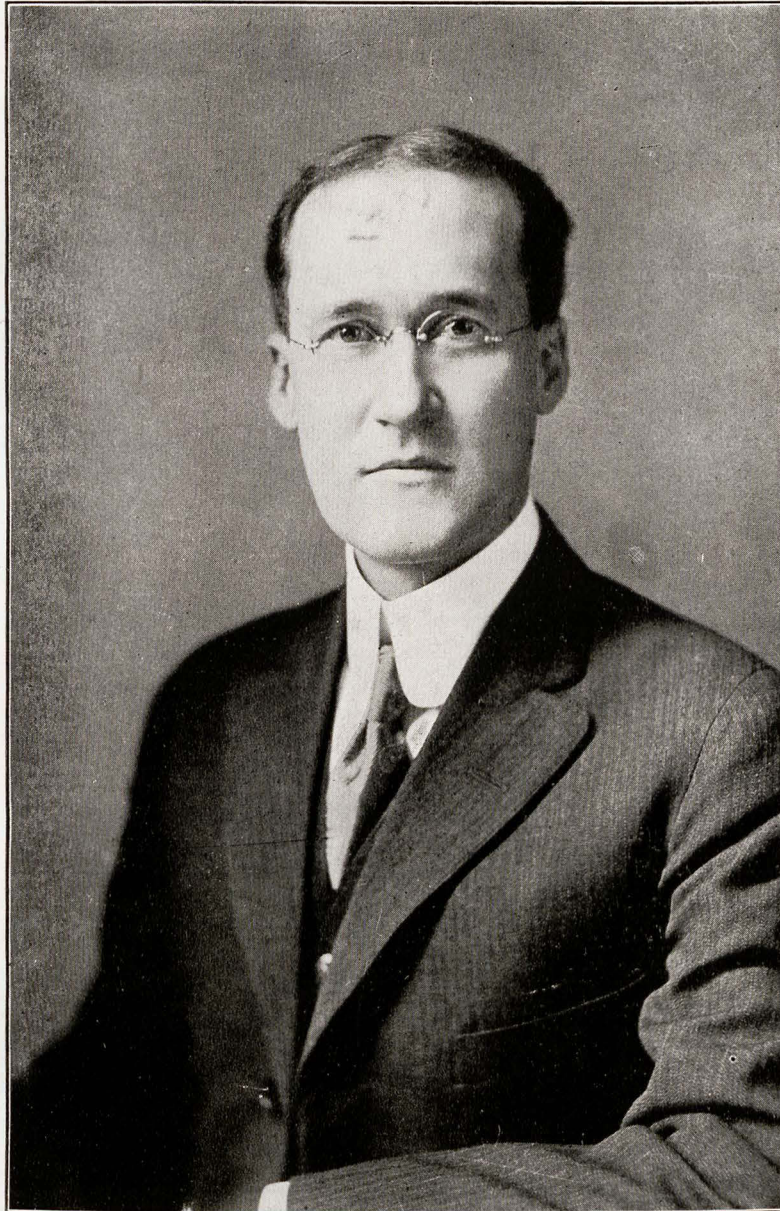

GEORGE WESLEY DROKE, M. A.,
Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences

EDUCATION

JAMES RALPH JEWELL, Ph. D.
Dean of the College of Education

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

IT is largely through the growth and importance of its College of Education that Arkansas shares with the rest of the South the wonderful progress made in Education since the Civil War. Since 1875 the number of southern schools devoted exclusively to the training of teachers has grown from one to more than fifty; the money invested in them from about $100,000 to more than $11,000,000; and the yearly appropriations from about $100,000 to more than $2,000,000. In 1875 only one hundred prospective teachers were being trained in the entire South; approximately twice as many now take work each year in the College of Education to say nothing of the annual Summer School, when more than 300 other teachers get systematic professional training.

The College of Education is applying itself to the following main tasks:

1. A more advanced and extensive training for the present teaching force of Arkansas, through summer courses and correspondence work, as well as itinerant teaching and extension lectures.

2. The training of young men and women for the profession of teaching. With this end in view a number of courses are maintained covering two to four years, leading to positions as primary, grade and high school teachers, principals and supervisors.

3. Higher professional courses leading to advanced degrees are offered to qualified graduate students. A gratifying number of mature men and women are already preparing themselves in this way for positions of large responsibility.

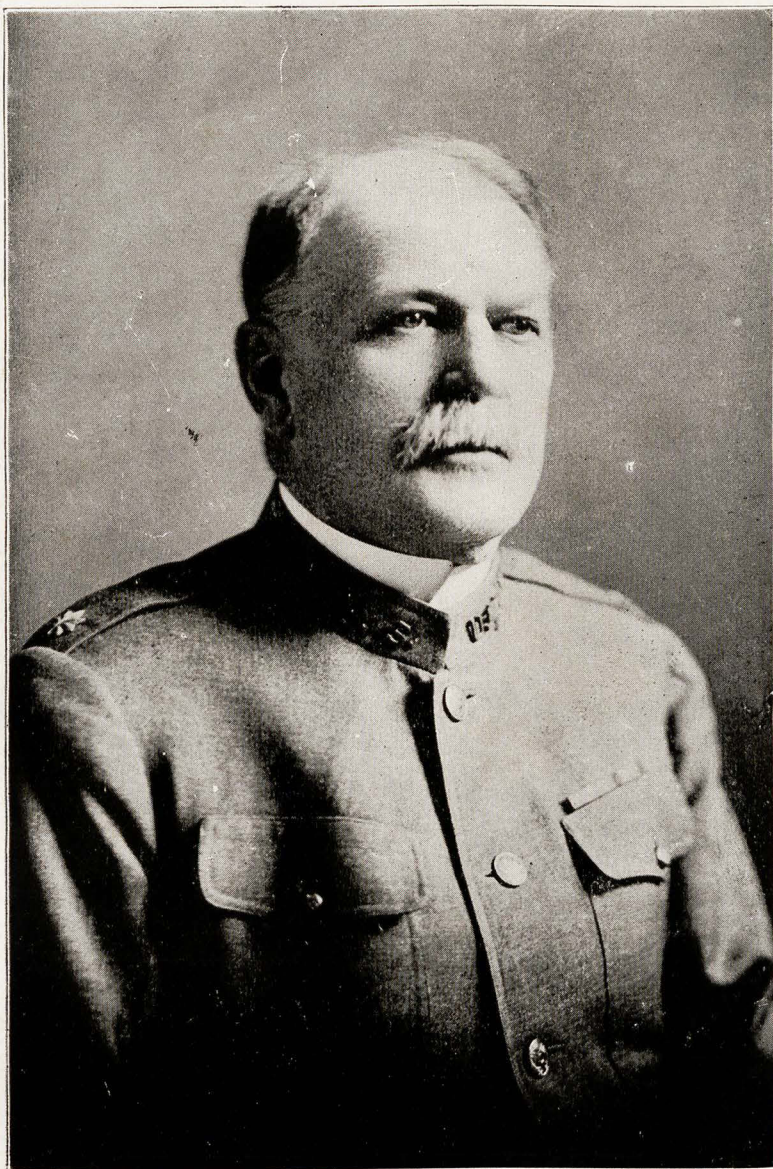

The organization of the College of Education is now larger and more complete than that of any other state university in the entire south or southwest. The other colleges of the university teach the subject matter to those preparing to teach the various Arts and Sciences, Fine Arts, Manual Training, Agriculture, and Smith-Hughes courses in Vocational Education. Practice teaching in all the elementary grades and in high school is done in Peabody Hall under experienced critic teachers. The professional instruction is given by a faculty of twelve, which includes full professors of Education, Psychology, Secondary Education, Agricultural Education, Home Economics Education, Education in Trades and Industries, a Director of the Training School, and five Instructors in the various departments of the college.

THE RAZORBACK

FOOT BALL

ARKANSAS' football team for the season of 1918 was continually changing in its players, due mostly to the S. A. T. C. installed in the University. When a player had remained in the S. A. T. C. long enough to become proficient in military science he was transferred to an Officers Training Camp. So that the new players were constantly taking the places left vacant. It was because of this continual shifting of players that the Razorbacks fell below their former standard in football teams. The games played early were the best in the season, as many of the former players were back on the team. It was when these men left that the average of the team fell. It was because of this that the Razorbacks were beaten so badly by the Sooners. Therefore we ascribe the low standard of the team to the S. A. T. C. We also ascribe to it the fact that no pictures could be taken of the games played, to be put in this annual.

The following was the schedule played:

Henry Kendal.....	6	Arkansas	23
Oklahoma University	103	Arkansas	0
Camp Pike	6	Arkansas	0
Rolla School of Mines.....	0	Arkansas	6
Springfield Normal	6	Arkansas	12

THE RAZORBACK

ROBERTSON, L., Pitcher
"Robbie"

Another one of Coach's pitching staff. He took the only game from Camp Pike. "Robbie" is as good an umpire as he is a baseball player.

BLACK, C., Pitcher
"Clint"

The other member of the pitching staff. He held Hendrix down to two hits in their first game with Arkansas. He is the pitcher with the smile on his face and that don't get rattled.

JAMERSON, C., Pitcher
"Birdie"

We don't know where he got this nickname, but the team gave it to him on the trip to Ouachita. Coach's steady southpaw.

THE RAZORBACK

WINFREY, R. B., Utility

"Rich"

His first year on the Varsity team. Showed up well in one game at third base. He carries out orders to a letter.

WILLIAMS, L. J., Shortstop

"Johnny"

The snappy little shortstop who covers all his field and also bats well. "Johnny" is bothered with bad ankles when out at drill, but they don't bother him when he is playing baseball.

EAST, J., Center Field

"Tater Bug"

The only professional on the team. His great specialty is to rattle opposing pitchers and steal bases. He is the best fielder on the team.

1919

THE RAZORBACK

ROGERSON, J. B., Right Field
"Biscoe"

Coach holds this man as one of his pinch hitters, as he has the highest batting average. "Biscoe" keeps one eye on the ball and the other on the grandstand.

GAFFNEY, C., Catcher
"Pinkey"

"Pinkey" keeps the batter in good condition to miss the ball by "talking up" the game. Helps Coach and Jack East run the team. He's never bothered by a woman's affections.

TAYLOR, B., Utility

Beloit plays so well that the Coach puts him any place except on the battery. He keeps up the "pep" when the score looks bad.

THE RAZORBACK

KIZER, R., Second Base

Kizer plays baseball, football, tennis 'neverything with the same hard working spirit. He also takes "Campustry" the same way.

HINDS, H., First Base

"Hub"

Another man whose baseball reputation goes back to "ye years before this one." He holds down the first sawdust pile with a steady and unerring hand.

BRAZIL, E., Catcher

"Bauxite Baby Doll"

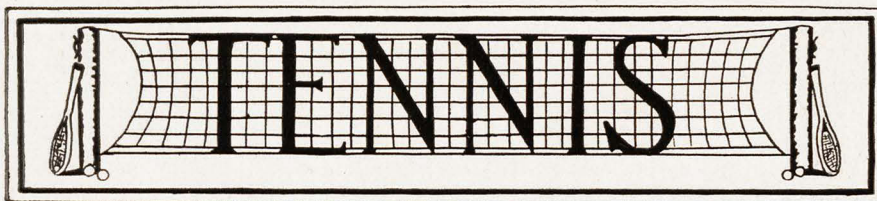

This is Brazil's second year on the Varsity team, and he plays harder than ever. He made two two-base hits against Hendrix.

PTAK, J. (Captain), Third Base

"Jimmie"

"Jimmie" is sometimes called "Long Distance," but that long distance is used to some good advantage on third base. This is the man who pulled down the HOME RUN in the first game of the season.

TENNIS

For the last few years there have been tennis tournaments in the University, but never before was there so much interest aroused. Perhaps it was because this was the first year that such an interest was encouraged by the reward of a cup to the winner of the singles, and of a watch fob to each of the winners of the doubles; or the fact that Arkansas was to have a tennis team for this year. The men out for the singles are P. Gold, C. Coleman, J. Cox, B. Smith, E. Canfield, H. Parker and R. Searcy, while those out for the doubles are Cox and Smith, Coleman and Gold, Searcy and Canfield and Parker and Gilbreath. The Arkansas team will consist of the winners of this tournament, and it will be this team that will represent Arkansas in the tournament at Hendrix in June, it being the only tournament secured for this year. The tournaments for next year promise to be even better than the one this year, so that they are looked forward to with great eagerness and "pep."

MASS ATHLETICS

Mass athletics was installed in the university for the first time at the beginning of this year. After having secured Coach Mather, the university made it compulsory for all freshmen and sophomores to take some form of athletics for one afternoon each week. For those who cared nothing for baseball, there were other forms to pick from, such as track, basketball, football, tennis and volley ball. After a few months so much interest was aroused that the sophomores challenged the freshmen to a track meet on May 24th. This brought out for the first time the fact that there was material in the university for a track team. The results of this meet were as follows:

100-yard Dash.....	Robinson, R. C.
11.4 seconds
220-yard Dash.....	Robinson, R. C.
440-yard Dash.....	Lieper, H. N.
880-yard Dash.....	Lieper, H. N.

DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

The Department of Journalism was established in the University of Arkansas in September, 1917. It came as the result of continued interest in journalistic work displayed by a number of students. Courses are offered in news writing, newspaper editing and American journalism. The course in news writing is intended primarily for those students who expect to take up newspaper work as a profession, but is open also to those who wish only to have some training in newspaper methods. The various forms of news are considered, and students are acquainted with the best newspapers of the country, as well as trade journals and magazines which serve as a market for stories.

Instruction and practice in editing copy, correcting proof, writing headlines, making up the paper, rewriting and other details of editing are taken up in the course in newspaper editing. The course in American journalism gives a history of newspaper work in America, and points out the differences between American and foreign newspapers.

The work in journalism is closely related to the student publications, The Razorback, the Arkansan, and the University Weekly. Students who have charge of these publications are given advice and assistance by the department.

The University upheld her splendid debating record this year by "bringing home the bacon" in both contests; one with the University of Mississippi and the other with Oklahoma A. & M. In the last two years the Razorbacks have won three victories, with no defeats, and in three years have won four victories, with one defeat. This year both debates were held the first week in May and were concerned with the question, "Resolved, That Congress Should Adopt the Administration Plan for Further Federal Operation of the Railroads."

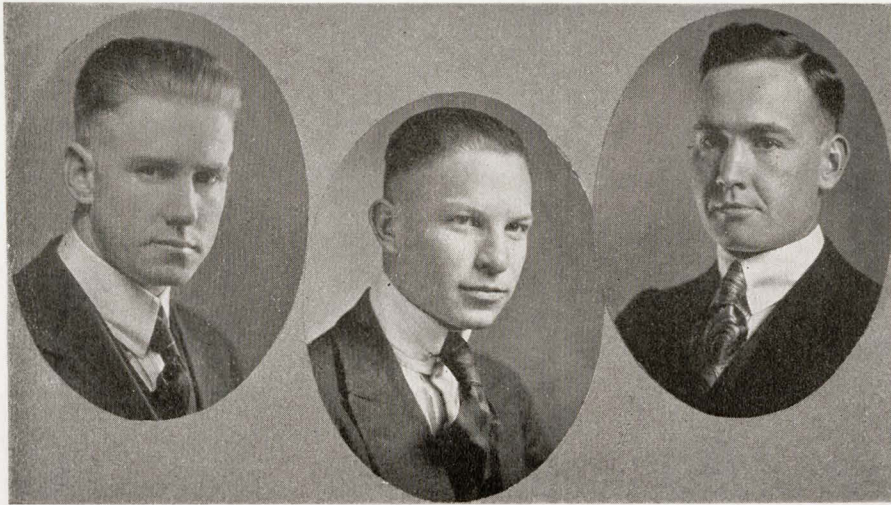

Bradley and Ragsdale, upholding the Affirmative, met the University of Mississippi on May 2 and won a 2 to 1 decision. The debaters for "Ole Miss" had had considerable experience, and this, coupled with their speaking abilities, made them formidable opponents.

Bradley was one of the men selected last year to meet Oklahoma A. & M., when Oklahoma called off the debate. Jim is one of the best speakers Arkansas has put out for several years. He thinks well on the floor, never fails to see the point, speaks fluently, argues logically and always has something in reserve which he springs upon his opponents at the right time.

Ragsdale, who, with Brooks Hays, gave the Texas Longhorns a drubbing last year, did not fail us when he was again selected this year. His convincing delivery and consistent reasoning has enabled him to win two victories in two successive years, and each time on his opponents' home platform.

Hugh Evans, Affirmative alternate, is one of our best men. His oratorical abilities are unquestionable, and one of next year's victories will no doubt be accounted for by his efforts.

THE RAZORBACK

Harrod and McFarlane made it a double victory by winning a 2 to 1 decision over the Affirmative team of Oklahoma A. & M. here on May 3. The visitors were men of debating experience and gave every evidence of careful and thorough training. They were unable, however, to overcome the consistent arguments of the well trained Razorbacks.

McFarlane has a good delivery and makes a pleasing appearance on the stage. He goes from us to study law, and promises to be one of the State's shrewdest and most successful attorneys.

Harrod brought a debating record with him from Arkansas State Normal. He was a member of the team which won a unanimous decision over Henderson-Brown last year. Harrod was one of the leading thinkers on the team and made his place by consistent, determined effort.

Hamilton, who is only a sophomore, has a keen intellect, and when he breaks into the regulars next year will bring credit to his Alma Mater.

But these victories were not due solely to the work of the debaters. Great credit is due Dr. John Clark Jordan, Professor of English and Public Speaking, who, as coach, spared neither time nor effort to insure success. The faculty of the Department of Economics also contributed materially by their suggestions and advice.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

With the addition to the campus of the new Y. M. C. A. Hut the interest and work of the Association took a new lease of life. The influence exerted by the Y. M. C. A. at the University this year has been of such extent as indeed to justify its existence and active support.

As the center of the religious and social life on the campus, its efficiency as a moral force can best be judged from the various fields of campus activity through which it endeavors to benefit the personal life of every undergraduate and to uplift by associative effort the standards of the entire student body. Not only amongst the latter, but also in the local community and rural districts the Association has become a vital agency of benefit.

Candy pulls, popcorn parties, socials, games, receptions, hikes, lectures, religious services, moving pictures and athletic games are some of the methods used by the Association to brighten the hours of the students.

THE Young Woman's Christian Association is the one organization of the women of the University which might be termed campus wide. Practically all of the regular women students are members and a large per cent of them take an active part in its meetings or in committee work.

The aim of the Young Women's Christian Association is that of the Association everywhere and is embodied in the words of its national motto—"I have come that they might have life and have it more abundantly." In its regular meetings the Association presents religious, social and ethical subjects, always attempting to show that the aggressive Christian life is the most abundant life and then offering thru its committee work an opportunity to exercise that belief. It also brings to the University from time to time speakers of wide reputation upon religious and moral questions. The social program includes good times of various kinds which tend to make the social life of the institution democratic and pleasant for all, and to promote a spirit of good will and friendliness.

The Young Women's Christian Association has meant a great deal in the life of the University in the past, and with the continued support of the University community and alumni will mean more and more each year.

A composite image of eight black and white portraits of young men in military uniforms, arranged in a 3x3 grid with the center cell empty. The portraits are set against a dark background within a larger frame. The men are wearing various styles of military uniforms, including tunics and tunics with caps. The overall image is framed by a decorative border with the word 'RAZORBACK' at the top and '1919' at the bottom.

PERICLEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Periclean was organized in 1900 as a debating club, but in 1901 it broadened into the wider field of literary society work. It is now the largest organization of its kind in the University. The society is especially proud of the fact that for the last three years at least three Pericleans have been members of the debating teams. At the present time five Pericleans are members of the team.

"Once a Periclean, always a Periclean."

A KISS

The word kiss is a noun but is usually used as a conjunction. It is never declined and is more common than proper. It is never used in the singular but always in the plural. It agrees with two persons. The origin is unknown but the necessity is undeniable. Its existence is confirmed but its extinction is doubted. The evils are paramount but the joys outweigh them.

LOCALS

Take your kodak work to McIntosh.

Cap Davidson had a date this week.

New members of the Faculty this week are Professors Walker, Bradley and Ragsdale. We welcome these men to the University for they stand high in the Educational World. All of them have S. O. L. degrees.

A good show every night at the Lyric. We have all the stars.

Jesse Cox made a trip to Little Rock this week in interest of the Razorback.

University of Arkansas

Fayetteville

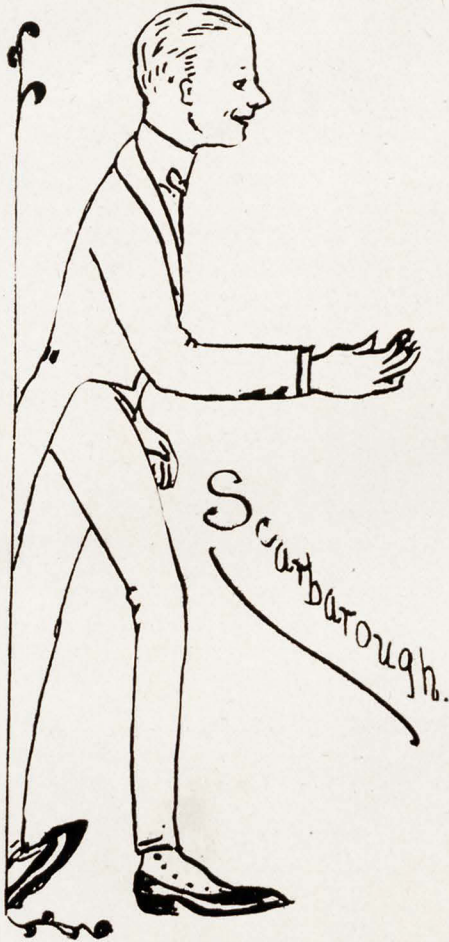

A standard institution, comprising colleges of liberal arts, agriculture, engineering and education. There is also a medical department situated at Little Rock.

Entrance to the Freshman class is based on a four-year high school course. The usual courses leading to the bachelor's degree are offered.

New courses are now being offered in stenography, typewriting, accounting, journalism, domestic science, education and other subjects which are especially intended to meet war-time needs.

There are excellent laboratory and library facilities. Tuition is free to residents of Arkansas. Non-residents pay an annual tuition of $10.

The next session will begin September 18, 1919. Catalogue and circulars of information may be obtained from the President or Registrar.

FIND THE CHAPERON

The object of the liberal education at this time is to train the mind to act quick in the case of an emergency. There is not better way to accomplish this than to keep the eyes open and the ears alert. If the chaperon changes her position be the first one to see her. Keep your eye on her constantly, then you will be in no danger.

Ladies' Apparel of Quality

HERE the discriminating college girl will find apparel of all kinds that is most charming, most pleasing, most attractive, in price and make up.

WE realize that college women are more particular in the choice of apparel, and for this reason we solicit your patronage, for we are satisfied our stocks in every department will meet the most rigid inspection of the most exacting young lady.

TO satisfy the most critical is far more pleasing to us than to satisfy the less particular.

Where Are You Going?

Will the End of December Find You Better Off?

Did you ever stop to think, where you will be at the age of 65? Do you know that out of every 1,000 healthy men, at age 25,

- 360 will be dead at 65;
- 10 will be rich;
- 40 will be wealthy;
- 50 will be supporting themselves by work;
- 540 will be dependent upon relatives or friends or cold charity.

These are cold, stubborn, astounding statistical facts.

A little while ago a successful business man proposed these three questions to a group of young fellows, earning ordinary salaries.:

1. Where are you going?
2. How do you expect to get there?
3. How do you expect to stay.

An astounding thing developed. Of 68 men, only 24 had decided upon the line of business in which they would engage, and only six of these had selected definite positions toward which they expected to work.

TRAINING THE WISEST INVESTMENT

The difference between the person who succeeds and the one who fails is a matter of training. The day of chance has passed. A few months with us means a good job—a chance for promotion every month, and your future is safe.

You can make no wiser investment than to qualify yourself for a good business position. We have the largest and strongest faculty of strictly high grade teachers employed by any commercial training school in the entire Southwest. Three hundred thousand successful students endorse the Draughon Way—our way, the individual way—of giving business training. Practical business men and women everywhere—merchants and bankers—say that the Draughon Way—our way—is the BEST way to fit yourself for business success. You get practical, intensive and thorough training in Draughon's that will LAND a good position—the goal you want to train for—in a shorter time and at a less expense than from schools in small towns or with limited standing, facilities and faculty. Your progress here and your success in business are sure to be both rapid and satisfactory.

You can easily double your income by learning the things we teach at DRAUGHON'S, and now is the time to begin.

THINGS THAT WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

If the Chi Omegas have any more Buster Brown Collars?
Who stacked Prexy's Office?
Why Gene Warner did not make the Skull and Torch?
Where the Glee Club will go next year?
If Arkansas had a football team this year?
What makes Dell Cato Wilcox so shinky?
Why Jaunita Graham vamps the men?
What makes R. A. Cooper so busy?
Why Frank Morrow was not a photographer instead of an engineer?
How McFarlane made the debating team?
How the Walker-Ragsdale slander suit came out?
Where Miss Williams learned to dance?
If any of the summer edition of the Weekly are coming out?
Who sent Bill Hamilton the sandwiches?
Where the Joke Editor got some of his material?
What went with the X-Ray?
If the S. P. E.'s have a chapter here?

TO THE STUDENTS AND READERS

Remember those who have helped us make our Razorback a success. By giving us a goodly portion of their advertising they have enabled the management to accomplish more than you can ever realize, so in your dealings with the business world keep foremost in your mind those who have patronized you in THE 1919 RAZORBACK.
